PUBLIC SAFETY—A JCF PRIORITY

The Public Safety and Traffic Enforcement Branch

The Public Safety and Traffic Enforcement Branch (PSTEB) is a strategic response to increased levels of social disorder in public spaces.

PSTEB aims to Improve public safety; reduce response time to demands for police service; reduce crime and disorder; and improve public trust and confidence in the police.

This will be achieved through the strategic deployment of safety and security assets, and the application of intelligence-led operational strategies integrated with cutting edge technological solutions.

The operational strategy of the PSTEB aims to maintain and develop proactive road policing activities, in partnership with other authorities and concerned agencies. PSTEB's Road policing activities will concentrate on:

1. Denying criminals use of the roads by enforcing the law;
2. Reducing road casualties;
3. Tackling the threat of criminal gangs operating in public space;
4. Enhancing public confidence and reassurance by patrolling the roads.

Your safety...a JCF priority

INTRODUCTION

The Jamaica Constabulary Force (JCF) is committed to the safety and security of all Jamaicans.

As you consider and make preparations to return home, we want to ensure, as best as possible, that you are able to resettle in peace and safety.

We have therefore produced this booklet to make you aware of the safety and security mechanisms instituted by the police and the Government of Jamaica for citizens; as well as the safety measures you can put in place prior to and on your return to Jamaica.

Welcome Home!

MESSAGE

Major General
Antony Anderson
Commissioner of Police

On behalf of the Jamaica Constabulary Force, welcome back to Jamaica. We are pleased that you have chosen to return home to enrich your community - and by extension the country - with your experiences and expertise developed during your period abroad.

We also see your choice to resettle as a vote of confidence in the Jamaica Constabulary Force's ability to deliver quality service that makes you feel safe.

During your time away, it may have seemed that the Jamaica you knew and loved has been besieged by crime and violence. I do understand your apprehensions, but be reassured that the JCF and the Government are doing the work to keep citizens safe.

Social order is a main indicator of a state's ability to govern, and reflects quickly the state of crime within a society. As such we have renewed focus on public safety and public order.

At the same time, we are building a new Police Force whose members will demonstrate not just the competencies required, but will exude courtesy, respect and professionalism in all engagements with citizens.

In this booklet, you will find information about the security apparatus that exists in Jamaica. Some things may have changed since your last visit, and we urge you to use this resource as a starting point for your reorientation into Jamaican society.

Obey all laws, and never hesitate to report any incident to your local Police. The JCF operates on the principle of Community Policing and welcomes vibrant, interactive community interactions with everyone we serve. We, therefore, look forward to being engaged by the public we serve, a public that you are now a part of.

We invite you to partner with us to create the safe and secure nation we all desire.

Once again, welcome back home, and all the best on your journey.

POLICING IN PARTNERSHIP: CREATING SAFE COMMUNITIES

The Jamaica Constabulary Force's Community Safety and Security Branch (CSSB) is the driving force behind strategies that underpin community based policing activities island-wide.

The JCF continues to place increased focus on disrupting the operations of violence producers, degrading their capabilities and reducing their assets. In order to achieve the foregoing, CSSB has a critical role to play in the creation and maintenance of Safe Communities.

The aim of this concept is to have nineteen (19) safe communities, one per division in Jamaica. Each division will select a community as a model that will feature safe community components.

Selected communities will form part of an overall crime prevention evaluation focus and will implement all elements of the strategy, such as supervised youth programmes, neighbourhood, beach and farm watch programmes etc.

POLICING IN PARTNERSHIP: HAND IN HAND FOR YOUR SAFETY

The JCF is committed to enhancing public safety and securing our communities by working in partnership with our citizens to solve policing problems and to improve the delivery of policing services.

We will strive to serve and protect our communities and do our best to reduce the fear of crime and the incidence of crime and violence by bringing offenders to justice.

PARTNERSHIPS

We will spare no effort to work in partnerships with all groups in trying to solve problems; all our communities are our most important partners in promoting public security and safe society. We will be responsive and accessible to our citizens so they have greater participation in decisions affecting public safety.

We consider our calling to uphold the law as an honourable profession that renders valuable service to the Jamaican society. We see our role as integral to good governance that will foster social and economic development and so ensure a better quality of life for all Jamaicans.

We are employed by the people of Jamaica to provide a service and as such we are answerable to them for our decisions and actions.

Our relationship with the public will be based on a high level of transparency and accountability for outcomes within our control.

MESSAGE

The Honourable Dr. Horace Chang
Minister of National Security

The Ministry of National Security and all its departments and agencies are committed to maintaining the environments that allow Jamaica's celebrated values and truths to remain our identifying factor as a country.

The security of our people, their assets and peace of mind is the priority of our security forces. This priority is fully extended to you as you return home to live, invest, retire.

The work begins with the security and monitoring of Jamaica's points of entry, to include all our designated ports of call along our 497-mile coastline. We take this work very seriously and have, through our Passport Immigration and Citizenship Agency (PICA) introduced new systems for processing arrivals at our two major international airports.

We are committed to ensuring that the movement of our visitors, citizens, and goods across and within our borders occur in a safe, harmonious and orderly fashion.

Jamaica remains dedicated to maintaining the highest standards of hospitable service couched in a stable, secure environment.

While we maintain this secure environment, we are aware that there are elements of society that may act in a disorderly and unlawful manner. Where these incidents come to the attention of the security forces, our response will be immediate and comprehensive. At the same time, everyone is encouraged to take precautions to ensure their personal safety.

As the world becomes a more globalised space, threats to security from external actors is cause for concern in every jurisdiction.

Our security forces have had to become more agile and responsive to changes in the global security environment.

Jamaica's abiding truths remain wrapped in the spirit, ingenuity and resilience of her people; these are the values that make us truly Jamaican. We vow to protect these values.

Our people, our culture and our warm climate continues to create an oasis for rejuvenation and restoration in the heart of the Caribbean.

Welcome back home!

MESSAGE

Senator Parnel Charles Jr.
Minister of State,
Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Foreign Trade

It is my distinct pleasure to welcome you home on behalf of the Government of Jamaica.

Our beloved country is making significant strides in our quest to achieve our national development goals. We have begun to experience growth in our economy as a consequence of several factors including; increases in tourist visitor arrivals, the creation of jobs in the business process outsourcing as well as sustained buoyancy in the agricultural sector.

There has also been significant investment in our infrastructural development which makes Jamaica ripe for investment for you, our Diaspora.

Of equal importance is the creation of a safe and secure environment for all Jamaicans.

In that regard, the Ministry has partnered with the Jamaica Constabulary Force (JCF) in developing this Safety and Security Handbook for prospective and Returned Citizens. This partnership also underscores the Government's commitment to increase collaboration among Government Ministries, Departments and Agencies.

The Safety Handbook, which features security precautions, will go a far way in achieving our objectives of building confidence and increasing communication with you.

I encourage you to note the advice and safety precautions that will increase your safety. I also ask that you consider supporting the programmes mentioned in the Safety Handbook, as well as explore ways of contributing your immense talent, creativity and ingenuity to your local communities.

Together, we can build sustainable communities!

Every good wish on your return home.

RETURNING Home

The Government of Jamaica continues its efforts to facilitate the return of all its nationals overseas who are desirous of returning home to retire, work or invest in Jamaica.

Over many years, wide-ranging mechanisms have been implemented to guide Returning citizens through the resettlement process.

This includes the establishment of a Department in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Foreign Trade to render assistance to Returning Citizens.

The Department serves as the focal point for the facilitation of assistance to Returning Residents through the transmission of information to and from overseas based Jamaicans. It also serves as an information centre and collaborates with a number of Government Agencies for the smooth resettlement process. These include:

1. The Passport Immigration and Citizenship Agency (PICA) on matters relating to nationality, citizenship and immigration. Please visit www.pica.gov.jm for details on their services.
2. Jamaica Customs Agency which deals with matters relating to eligibility for concessions, and the importation and clearance of personal and household effects, tools of trade, motor vehicles and other items. Please visit www.jacustoms.gov.jm for further details on their services and procedures.

SECURITY GUIDE

The Internet has had an enormous impact on the way people do business. But, fraudsters use the Internet to scam unsuspecting consumers. If an offer, email, or message sounds too good to be true or just seems plain fishy, do some additional checking.

Don't click on links in email or on social media from banks, credit card companies, government agencies, or other organizations, unless you're 100% certain they are legitimate.

Only shop at reputable online merchants. Be careful about online merchants you have never heard of. When in doubt, ask someone familiar with online shopping or do some further online research.

When shopping or banking look for secure websites with an https in the browser's address bar. If it's just http, it's not a secure site.

Remember to log out of all emails and other online accounts when finished, to ensure no one can access your account and information.

Monitor your online financial accounts. Look for recent activity to be sure that there are no fraudulent charges to your credit, debit, or bank accounts.

Be smartphone savvy. Smartphones can track your location and reveal information about you. Be careful to only download reputable apps and password protect.

ONLINE SAFETY

Many seniors are now online. The reasons seniors go online are as varied as the users themselves and include:

1. Participating in social and cultural activities
2. Keeping in touch with loved ones
3. Meeting new friends or romantic partners
4. Online banking, shopping and investing
5. Making travel arrangements
6. Getting medical advice and information including doctor reports and test results
7. Sharing and viewing pictures
8. Exploring and sharing political views, and much more

Like all powerful tools, the Internet and mobile technologies come with some risks, but these risks can be managed as long as you follow some basic rules of the road.

Use strong and unique passwords and never share your passwords with anyone, unless you've designated someone you trust to manage your accounts.

Use privacy settings. Most services have settings that let you control who can see what you post. Facebook, for example, has extensive controls, letting you post to only friends, your friends and their friends, or everyone on Facebook.

JamaicaEye

JamaicaEye is part of an island-wide network of camera surveillance systems designed to increase the safety of all citizens.

A programme under the Ministry of National Security (MNS), it is a three-phased implementation of a national CCTV surveillance programme geared at disaster response and public safety, which includes combating crime. These cameras will monitor public spaces across the island and assist the authorities in responding in the event of an incident, disaster, act of criminality or accident.

The MNS has already implemented cameras in public spaces in Kingston, St. James (Montego Bay), Manchester (Mandeville), St. Ann (Ocho Rios), Clarendon (May Pen) and Westmoreland (Negril).

Collaboration with the public is a critical element to success of the programme and a good indication of the importance the public plays in the fight against crime and increasing public safety.

You are encouraged to participate to increase public safety. The process to participate in the JamaicaEye programme is:

1. Register on the JamaicaEye website JamaicaEye.gov.jm.
2. During registration online the MNS will capture the relevant details to enable it to connect to the participant's surveillance cameras.

4. The technical team will then establish connectivity.
5. An email is then sent to the participant with a screen shot of the established feed to inform them that their feed is now being monitored.
6. The participant can then collect their JamaicaEye sticker to place on premises to show that they are a part of the programme.
7. Persons who want to apply but don't have cameras will see the general guidelines to what camera systems they should procure.

SAFETY IN YOUR HANDS

Neighbourhood Watch

Since 1987, the Neighbourhood Watch programme has united citizens to protect themselves and their property, by reducing the risk of crime. Neighbourhood Watch signs are strategically placed at the entrance(s) to the communities, as public declarations by the residents that they are alert, crime-conscious and united against crime.

A Police Officer from the police station serving the community acts as the main liaison officer with the Neighbourhood Watch group. He/she receives information on matters of crime or suspected criminal activity, but any police on duty can take reports of such incidents.

The programme also encourages residents to provide Victim Support and Witness Support for community members. Victim Support may take the form of moral support, counselling and assistance in rehabilitation. A community can also provide moral support for a member of its group appearing in court as a witness.

Beach Watch

THE LAUNCH of the Jamaica Constabulary Force's first Beach Watch Programme on June 19, 2017 at Greenwich Farm in the St. Andrew South Police Division is another boost to the JCF's crime fighting tactics.

This programme is specifically aimed at reducing the availability and use of illegal guns in Jamaica and reducing incidents of violence in fishing communities and on beaches.

The programme pools together the local police, fisher folk, the general public and other stakeholders working in partnership to ensure the safety and security of users of our beaches.

Operated through the JCF's Community Safety and Security Branch

(CSSB), the programme is an off-shoot of the Neighbourhood Watch Programme, also driven through the CSSB.

Under the programme, incidents prevention, health and safety, environmental preservation and crime prevention are all explored, with more than 300 fisher folk already engaged across the island. Six other areas are being prepped for the introduction of this programme during the course of the year, to include Forum, Portsmouth Beach and Old Harbour Bay in St. Catherine; Rae Town in Kingston East; Rocky Point in Clarendon and Rocky Point in St. Thomas.
